

12 Cups of Grace™

Dara V. Rose

Christian Speaker • Author • Educator

Helping people discover faith, identity, and purpose through Scripture and story.

Dara V. Rose is a Christian author, Bible study teacher, and founder of 12 Cups of Grace, a platform designed to help individuals engage Scripture through reflection, storytelling, and intentional study. For more than a decade, Dara has created Bible study guides, devotionals, and resources that make Scripture approachable and applicable to everyday life. She is currently pursuing a Master's degree in Education in Instructional Technology and Design, further expanding her ability to teach, design learning experiences, and connect with diverse audiences. Whether speaking to a room of women, a group of college students, or a podcast audience, Dara brings a message that is honest, grounded in Scripture, and centered on growth.

Available for churches, conferences, podcasts, workshops, retreats, colleges, and faith-centered events across the United States.
